PART 6. GUARDIANSHIP FOR RECIPIENTS OF MENTAL HEALTH SERVICES

R 330.6006 Applicability.

Rule 6006. (1) These rules apply to persons designated mentally retarded as that term is defined in section 602 of the act.

(2) A determination of need for guardianship proceedings may also be made under these rules for persons who are designated mentally ill. Upon a determination that a mentally ill recipient cannot give informed consent, a hospital or program director shall not cause a proceeding for guardianship to be commenced in the probate court, but shall notify the persons indicated by these rules. When a person is not available to be notified or the notified persons refuse to take action and action is urgently needed, a hospital or program director may elect to commence appropriate probate court guardianship proceedings authorized by law if a suitable candidate to serve as guardian is available or the probate court has indicated a willingness to appoint a public guardian at county expense, request a probate court to consent to the performance of surgery or electroconvulsive therapy or other procedure intended to produce convulsion or coma in lieu of the person eligible to give consent, or resort to other emergency procedures listed in chapter 3 of Act No. 288 of the Public Acts of 1939, as amended, being §703.1 et seq. of the Michigan Compiled Laws.

R 330.6011 Determination of need for guardianship proceedings.

Rule 6011. (1) The facility or program director shall presume a person of the age of 18 or over legally competent to make an application or give a consent, or to refuse to do so, except that:

(a) This presumption shall be conclusively rebutted when a plenary guardian of the person, or of the estate and of the person, or a partial guardian has been appointed for a person and a duration of the term of guardianship indicated in the court order has not expired.

(b) When a partial guardian has been appointed, a person shall be presumed legally competent except for:

(i) Areas designated as legal disabilities in the court order appointing a partial guardian.

(ii) Powers or duties granted to the guardian as specified in the court order appointing a partial guardian.

(2) The manner of determining need for guardianship proceedings required by these rules shall be part of the procedure followed by facilities in conducting evaluations of minor residents 6 months prior to an eighteenth birthday to determine whether a resident is competent to execute an application for administrative admission or otherwise requires the protective services of a guardian. An evaluation of need for other protective services of a guardian shall be made even if a decision has been made to discharge a resident by his eighteenth birthday.

(3) A staff member responsible for taking action concerning a person or for arranging for a person of the age of 18 or over to make application or give consent may decline to do so on the ground that the person is not capable of giving or refusing to give an informed consent in 1 or more of the following areas:

(a) Admission to a facility or participation in a program.

(b) Nonemergency surgery or other medical procedures not related to care and treatment for a person's mental condition.

(c) Nonemergency use of electro-convulsive therapy or other procedure intended to produce convulsion or coma for a resident or psychosurgery or other treatment of an experimental or extra hazardous nature for a voluntary resident.

(d) Consent to chemotherapy prior to final adjudication of a petition for involuntary admission.

(e) Financial matters, including payment for services and securing insurance and governmental benefits.

(f) Fingerprinting or photographing of a recipient.

(g) Disclosure of confidential information which requires consent.

(h) Resident labor or other employment which requires consent.

(i) Abortion procedures, surgical sterilization, and chemical or mechanical contraceptive measures.

(j) Other developments relating to a person's residence in a facility or participation in a mental health services program, other than care and treatment, training programs or services ordered by a probate court.

(4) A staff member declining to take action or make arrangements shall give to the facility or program director, in writing, reasons for a conclusion that a person is not capable of giving or refusing to give an informed consent.

R 330.6013 Informed consent board.

Rule 6013. (1) Upon review, a facility or program director shall determine whether the written conclusion of a staff member that a person is not capable of giving or refusing to give an informed consent is of substantial weight. A facility or program director shall, whenever possible, authorize staff to act upon an application, consent, or refusal of a person of the age of 18 or over who is presumed legally competent. Where a facility or program director determines that a written conclusion of a staff member that a person is not capable of giving or refusing to give an informed consent is of substantial weight, he shall convene an informed consent board.

(2) An informed consent board may either be a standing interdisciplinary body, drawn from an existing interdisciplinary review board within a facility or program or appointed on a case by case basis and shall consist of:

(a) Two mental health professionals of different disciplines with appropriate clinical experience or training.

(b) A third person who is not employed by the facility or program, selected by the facility or program director from qualified volunteers with an interest in mental health or mental retardation advocacy and services.

(3) One board member shall have had prior clinical contact with the person whose ability to give informed consent is at issue, but no board member shall have been involved in either the action or application for which consent is needed or the decision to evaluate the need for guardianship proceedings.

(4) A board shall evaluate the capacity of a person to give or refuse to give the required informed consent by interviewing the person and other appropriate persons, and by evaluating available clinical records and test results. A board shall submit a written report stating findings of fact, the person's desires in the matter when possible, a conclusion whether the consent or refusal is, or will be, informed and its recommendation.

(5) Informed consent assumes that:

(a) A person has the capacity to make a decision, and to understand rationally the nature of the procedure, its risks or other consequences and other relevant information despite deprivations stemming from confinement and despite negative effects of institutionalization.

(b) A person has been made aware of the procedure, risks, or other direct ramifications, including benefits, reasonably to be expected and of an appropriate alternative which is advantageous to the person. There shall be an offer to answer further inquiries of the person.

(c) A decision is or will be an exercise of free power of choice without intervention of any element of force, fraud, deceit, duress, overreaching, or other ulterior form of constraint or coercion, including promises or assurances of freedom or privileges. There shall be instruction given to the person that he is free to withdraw consent or to discontinue ongoing activity or participation at any time without prejudice.

(6) A board shall recommend those mental, physical, social or educational evaluations it deems necessary to further ascertain the capacity to give informed consent or the need of a minor approaching the age of 18 for protective services of a guardian, to determine if guardianship will promote and protect the well-being of the person or to arrive at a suitable guardianship design.

(7) If a majority of an informed consent board concludes that a person does not have the capacity to make a decision or to rationally understand a situation, as required for an informed consent, and if the board concludes that guardianship can promote and protect the well-being of the person and recommends a guardianship request designed to encourage the development of maximum self-reliance and independence for guardianship to be commenced in the probate court. Steps taken to cause a proceeding shall be in accordance with the rules on a facility's or program's role in guardianship proceedings.

(8) If a majority of an informed consent board concludes informed consent is absent either because a person has not been made sufficiently aware of procedures, risks, or other ramifications, benefits, or alternatives or because a decision is not voluntary, as required for an informed consent, the director shall cause the individual to be provided necessary information or, when possible, an opportunity for voluntary choice.

(9) If a majority of an informed consent board concludes that a person can give or has given an informed consent or has the capacity to give an informed consent and has refused to consent, the facility or program director shall authorize the staff to act accordingly.

(10) A parent or a responsible relative, a previously appointed current partial guardian or other interested person or entity shall be notified of a determination that a person cannot give an informed consent. More than 1 person or entity may be notified.

(11) A copy of an informed consent board's report shall be placed in the person's case record.

R 330.6015 Emergency guardianship.

Rule 6015. (1) Whenever the life of a person presumed legally competent is threatened, when there is doubt whether a person is capable of giving informed consent, and when it is deemed necessary to undertake measures other than surgery or electro-convulsive therapy or other procedures intended to produce convulsion or coma, a facility or program director, without convening an informed consent board, may petition the probate court of the county where the person is located to exercise the powers of a guardian or to summarily appoint a temporary guardian. The medical necessity for the procedure shall be documented and entered into the record of the person and provided to the probate court.

(2) This provision for emergency guardianship shall not preclude medical staff from taking life-saving or physical stabilization measures when the life of a person is threatened and there is not time to obtain consent. These measures may be performed without consent after the medical necessity has been documented and the documentation has been entered into the record of the recipient. Consent for necessary continued administration of the emergency procedures shall be sought as soon as possible.

(3) A facility or program director may petition a probate court to exercise powers of a guardian or to summarily appoint a temporary guardian whenever a decision should be made by a person presumed legally competent whose life is not threatened but whose capacity to give an informed consent is in doubt, and a time limit for taking action or otherwise making a decision does not allow sufficient time for an informed consent board to be convened and make a determination. A board shall subsequently complete an inquiry and if a majority concludes the person is capable of giving or refusing to give an informed consent, a probate court which has assumed or authorized emergency or temporary guardianship powers shall be informed by its next working day and asked to terminate the guardianship.

R 330.6019 Facility or program role in guardianship proceedings.

Rule 6019. (1) When guardianship is deemed necessary, a facility or program director shall endeavor to cause the petitioner to be an appropriate family member, friend, or public or private agency or association, other than an agency or association directly providing services to the person. The person himself may also be the petitioner.

(2) When the facility or program director or an authorized staff member petitions for appointment of a guardian, the petition shall not request, and a report provided by a department facility or a county program shall not recommend a greater scope or duration of guardianship powers and duties than is absolutely necessary to meet the needs presented by the person's actual mental and adaptive limitations and for which an informed consent board evaluated the ability of the person to consent or for which a minor approaching the age of 18 has been evaluated by an informed consent board as needing protective services of a guardian.

(3) A guardianship request shall be designed to encourage development of maximum self-reliance and independence in the person.

(4) If a petition previously filed on behalf of a facility or program resulted in appointment of a plenary guardian of the estate or a partial guardian or a refusal by a court to appoint any guardian, a facility or program director shall not authorize a subsequent petition unless there has been a significant deterioration in the person's condition or other compelling change in circumstances. This requirement shall not prevent action for emergency guardianship.

(5) Only when it is necessary for a court to summarily appoint a temporary guardian and then only when another person, agency, or association is not available to serve as guardian, shall a facility or program providing services to a person offer to serve as guardian.

(6) When a facility or program petitions for appointment of a guardian, a facility or program director shall cause, wherever possible, that an appropriate family member, friend, or public or private agency or association be considered by the probate court for appointment as guardian.

(7) Only on the request of a probate court and after all other possibilities have been exhausted may a department facility agree, on behalf of the department, to serve as a plenary or partial guardian.

(8) The department shall decline to serve as guardian for a person not receiving services from a department facility.

(9) A county community mental health program may accept an appointment as guardian for a person receiving services in a department facility, pursuant to these rules.

(10) Staff members of the department and of a community mental health program shall not personally act as guardians.

(11) Each facility director and community mental health director shall establish relationships with local associations for retarded citizens and other appropriate public or private agencies or associations which are capable of conducting an active guardianship program for a mentally retarded person to assist in obtaining individual or group guardians in cases where a family member or friends are not available.

(12) When a department facility or county community program staff member petitions for appointment of a guardian, on behalf of the facility or program, a facility shall provide, and a program shall provide or contract for, a report required by law. This report shall contain all of the following:

(a) Evaluations of the person's mental, physical, social, and educational condition made not more than the 30 days prior to filing a petition.

(b) A recommendation proposing the type and scope of guardianship services needed.

(c) A judgment as to the most appropriate living arrangement.

(d) Signatures of all persons, 1 of whom shall be a physician or a psychologist, who performed evaluations upon which the report is based. Any number of evaluations by persons not on the staff of the facility or program may be utilized.

(13) If suitable, a report of an informed consent board may be used as part of a required report.

(14) When facility or program staff petition for appointment of a guardian, a petition shall be filed in the probate court for the county of residence or county in which a mentally retarded person was found as determined by any of the following factors:

(a) The county from which a person was admitted on the basis of a judicial admission or ordered to undergo a program of alternative care and treatment.

(b) The county from which a person was referred to a facility or program by a county community mental health program or other public or private agency.

(c) The county in which a person resides, if a parent has agreed to an appointment as guardian.

(d) The county in which a person owns real estate suitable for residential use.

(e) The county with which a person has substantial service contacts as evidenced by such factors as recent or current enrollment in a public education system, recent or current employment, current voter or automobile registration, valid driver's license, bank accounts, or ownership of substantial tangible personal property.

(f) A person's present residence if he resides outside a facility.

(15) If the county of residence or the county in which a person was found cannot be determined, a petition may be filed in the probate court for the county in which the facility is located. If both the county of residence or in which the person was found are outside the facility's or program's service area, a petition may be filed in the probate court for the county in which the facility or program is located with the permission of the probate court.

(16) Whenever a facility or program staff petitions for appointment of a guardian and there has previously been a guardian appointed for a person, the petition shall, where possible, be filed in the same probate court which previously appointed a guardian for the person, and in all cases the court shall be alerted by the petitioner to previous current or expired guardianship of which the petitioner has notice.

(17) Whenever the department is appointed guardian, a facility shall request that the court order that the report to the court be at intervals which coincide with periodic reviews scheduled for the resident.

(18) The guardian's report to a court shall contain statements indicating all of the following:

(a) The person's current mental, physical, social, and educational condition.

(b) The person's present living arrangement.

This provision shall not exclude neglect proceedings in a juvenile court.

(2) In areas where minors are authorized by law to give consent, and a parent does not give consent, or a minor desires to not involve parents, the capacity of a minor to give informed consent is in doubt, the measures authorized by these rules may be applied to arrange for a guardian to give consent on behalf of a minor.

(2) If a facility or program director determines that a guardian of a resident should be replaced or that a guardianship should be dissolved, he shall petition the probate court. Procedures for making this determination shall be adopted by the governing body of a facility or program.

(3) A facility or program director shall periodically review the need for guardianship where a facility or program staff member petitioned on behalf of a facility or program or where an interested person or entity filed a petition at the request of a staff member. This review shall be conducted once annually in the same manner as a determination of need for guardianship proceedings. In facilities, the review shall be made at the time of a periodic review. When the duration indicated in a court order of such a guardianship expires or is soon to expire, a person's continued need for the same type and scope of guardianship may be reviewed in the same manner as a periodic review.

R 330.6031 Information on guardianship procedures.

Rule 6031. A county community mental health program providing mental retardation services shall provide information on guardianship procedures and on obtaining evaluations for guardianship proceedings on request to persons in the communities it serves. PART 7. RIGHTS OF RECIPIENTS OF MENTAL HEALTH SERVICES

SUBPART 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

R 330.7001 Definitions.

Rule 7001. As used in this part:

(a) "County community mental health program" means the official county agency operated by, or under contract with, a county community mental health board.

(b) "Governing body" means the director of the department for facilities and other entities operated by the department; the county director for facilities and other entities operated by a county community mental health program; or the agency, organization, board, or person having the primary legal authority over other facilities. The director of the department or a county director may delegate his authority for issuing policies, procedures, and exclusions to directors of facilities, programs and entities in his jurisdiction and shall require that the policies, procedures, and exclusions established by a provider be subject to standards established by the department or to the approval of the department or county director.

(c) "Guardian" means a person empowered to execute a consent pursuant to a probate court order, for a duration which is still in effect, appointing a plenary guardian of the estate, or of the person, or both, or a partial guardian. A plenary guardian is empowered to execute those consents within the scope and limitations of the appointment. A partial guardian for a mentally retarded person appointed under chapter 6 of the act is empowered to execute only consents which pertain to powers, duties, and rights specifically granted to the partial guardian by the court order or to legal disabilities which the court order has designated the person subject.

(d) "Patient" means a person who resides in a hospital for the mentally ill or a psychiatric unit.

(e) "Provider" means a department facility or entity, the county director of community mental health programs and, for an operation not under contract with a county community mental health program, a mental hospital, psychiatric hospital, or psychiatric unit licensed by the department, a certified community mental health center, any other private mental health facility, and any facility operated by a political subdivision of the state separate from a community mental health program. The county director may delegate the duties of a provider to individual facilities, programs, or entities operated by, or under contract with, a county community mental health program, but shall assure county-wide uniformity in practice and performance of providers.

(f) "Recipient" means a person who receives mental health services from a facility, or a person who receives mental health services from an entity other than

(g) "Resident" means a person who resides in a hospital for the mentally ill or for the mentally retarded.

History: 1954 ACS 98, p. 74, Eff. Jan. 9, 1979.

R 330.7002 Designation of a facility.

Rule 7002. (1) "Facility" means a residential facility, other than those described in subrule (2), licensed by the state, or operated by or under contract with a public agency, which provides mental health services, and whose residents reside there for a period of more than 8 hours per day for more than 3 consecutive days or for a period of 12 or more hours per day and which provides to residents on the premises not less than 1 of the following psychiatric or psychological mental health services:

(a) Emergency service.

(b) Diagnostic service on an inpatient basis.

(c) Inpatient treatment service.

(d) Partial hospitalization service, including day care, night care, or weekend care.

(e) Residential, sheltered, or protective care service.

(f) Habilitation or rehabilitation service, including vocational program or other organized program of training or recreational activities.

(2) This definition shall not apply to an entity which provides only supervised living, guidance, and counseling, including sheltered workshop activities, such as foster family care, community living placement, halfway houses, or to any facility licensed as a family home, group home, or congregate facility by the department of social services. "Supervision" means guidance of an individual in the activities of daily living, including reminding a resident to maintain his medication schedule as directed by his physician, reminding him of important activities to be carried out, assisting him in keeping appointments and being aware of his general whereabouts even though he may travel independently about the community. Upon request, the director may certify that an organization or program falls outside this definition.

(3) The department by rule or policy, or a county director by policy, may require as a condition of licensing, placement, payment, or reimbursement that an entity not within this definition afford residents or clients the rights guaranteed by the act and these rules.

(4) A recipient shall not be placed in an entity or program not meeting this definition if the individual's legal status is to remain the same as if in the departmental facility unless these rights, where applicable, are guaranteed.

History: 1954 ACS 98, p. 75, Eff. Jan. 9, 1979.

R 330.7003 Determination of consent.

Rule 7003. (1) "Consent" means written informed consent on the part of a recipient, empowered guardian or parent if a minor. Informed consent assumes:

(a) Competency. Competency requires the ability of an individual to understand rationally the nature of a procedure, risks, other consequences, and other relevant information. An evaluation of competency requires consideration of the effects of deprivations stemming from confinement and of the phenomenon of institutionalization.

(b) Knowledge. An individual consenting shall be aware of the procedure, risks, other consequences, and other relevant information. The standard governing required disclosure by a doctor is what a reasonable patient needs to know in order to make an intelligent decision. Other relevant information includes the purpose of the procedures, a description of attendant discomforts, risks, and benefits reasonably to be expected, a disclosure of appropriate alternatives advantageous to the recipient, and an offer to answer further inquiries.

(c) Voluntariness. There shall be free power of choice without the intervention of an element of force, fraud, deceit, duress, overreaching, or other ulterior form of constraint or coercion, including promises or assurances of privileges or freedom. There shall be an instruction that an individual is free to withdraw consent and to discontinue participation or activity at any time without prejudice to the recipient.

(2) A provider shall establish policies for obtaining consent which include procedures for evaluating competency and for assuring disclosure and voluntariness. The policies and procedures shall specify for specific circumstances the types of information which shall be disclosed and steps which may not be taken without endangering voluntariness. These procedures shall precede an evaluation of consent for purposes of determining whether guardianship proceedings are necessary.

(3) Informed consent shall be reobtained whenever interim circumstances substantially affect the risks or other consequences, or benefits reasonably to be expected.

(4) An agreement in writing documenting an informed consent shall not include any exculpatory language through which the recipient, or a person consenting on the recipient's behalf, waives or appears to waive, a legal right, including a release of a facility or entity or its agents from liability for negligence. The agreement shall embody the basic elements of informed consent in the particular context. The individual, guardian, or parent consenting shall be given adequate opportunity to read the document before signing it. The requirement of a written consent shall not eliminate, where essential to the individual's understanding or otherwise deemed advisable, a reading of the document to the individual or an oral explanation in a language the individual understands. A note of the explanation and by whom made shall be placed in the record along with the written consent.

(5) A consent is executed when it is signed by the appropriate individual. Department, facility, or entity policies and procedures may require that a consent is not executed unless witnessed.

History: 1954 ACS 98, p. 75, Eff. Jan. 9, 1979.

SUBPART 2. RIGHTS OF RECIPIENTS OF MENTAL HEALTH SERVICES

R 330.7009 Civil rights.

Rule 7009. (1) A recipient has the same rights, benefits, and privileges, as when not receiving mental health services, including rights guaranteed by the act, except when divested or limited by either:

(a) A court, statute, or rule.

(b) Voluntary agreement of a recipient or person legally empowered to consent on behalf of the recipient.

(2) A provider shall establish measures to prevent and correct possible violations of civil rights, and a violation of civil rights shall be regarded as an abuse of recipients, subject to remedies for abuse.

(3) Recipients shall be permitted, to the maximum extent feasible and in any legal manner, to conduct personal and business affairs and otherwise exercise all rights, benefits, and privileges not divested or limited.

(4) Policy, procedure, or action shall not limit a recipient's exercise of rights, benefits, or privileges unless there is express authority in a court order, statute, or rule for limitation.

(5) An adult, recipient, and a minor, when statutes allow consent or other action by a minor, shall be presumed legally competent by providers. This presumption may be rebutted only by court appointment of a guardian or exercise by a court of guardianship powers and only to the extent of the scope and duration of a guardianship. A provider shall do all of the following:

kinds of property shall be documented and made available to the director of the department on request. An exclusion may be appropriate to the mental or chronological age of residents, and shall include:

(a) Weapons, such as firearms, knives, and other sharp objects, or explosives.

(b) Drugs, whether prescribed or not, unless possession of the drug is specifically authorized by the attending physician.

(c) Alcoholic beverages.

(2) Procedures shall be developed by each facility whereby a resident suspected of processing an excluded item may be searched. Justification for a search shall be documented in the resident's case record.

(3) Limitations on the right to receive, possess, and use personal property imposed by the person in charge of a resident's plan of service shall be preceded by documentation of the circumstances which indicate that a limitation is the minimal essential step to achieve protection of physical well-being or property, facilitate a compelling treatment objective, or assure effective functioning of a facility. Facilities shall provide procedures whereby a resident may challenge a limitation or the expiration date of a limitation.

(4) A denial to a resident of access to and ability to spend money as essential to prevent an unreasonable and significant dissipation of assets shall be limited to a maximum period of 30 days, after which a need for a continued restriction shall be met through guardianship.

(5) Facility policy on access to and expenditure of funds, and limitations placed on these, shall be consistent with both current needs of the resident, including basic needs or special purchases, and the use of funds to facilitate release or discharge and normalization, whether within or without the facility. Facility staff may take an active role in guiding a resident's use of funds in line with these criteria, but there may not be a total prohibition of use of funds that is otherwise lawful.

(6) Whenever a resident is admitted, those items of personal property which are not subject to an exclusion or limitation shall be permitted to remain with the resident. An official receipt shall be issued for limited items not excluded but essential to the resident's welfare while in the facility. Each facility shall establish procedures for disposition of excluded property in possession of the resident at the time of admittance.

(7) When a resident is admitted with items in possession which require formal attention and are retained, the facility director shall, as necessary, petition the court for the appointment of a guardian. Items such as bank accounts, stocks, bonds, insurance policies, and storage receipts shall receive immediate action so as to properly release the facility from liability and provide appropriate protection of a resident's assets.

(8) A facility shall deliver to a resident that is discharged or placed on convalescent leave those funds accounted for in the resident's name and any personal effects, including those held in the property office. Each facility shall establish procedures for disposition of items inadvertently overlooked.

(9) Upon the death of a resident, every effort shall be made by a facility to divest itself of a resident's personal effects and monies to the nearest relative, or to a person indicated by the resident's will of which the facility has notice.

(10) A facility shall notify the nearest relative by registered mail, listing personal effects or monies being held and calling attention to statutes providing for disposition.

(11) Where there are questions as to rival claims to personal effects or monies, property may be held by a facility until the claims are determined in a probate court.

(12) If it is impossible to contact the nearest relative, a facility shall notify, by registered mail, the person or entity who paid the funeral expenses, listing the articles being held and calling attention to statutes providing for disposition.

(13) If claims to personal effects or monies of a resident who has died do not exist, the property or monies shall be considered to be unclaimed.

(14) When a resident is on unauthorized leave, the facility director shall retain custody of the property and monies and handle it in the same manner as other unclaimed property, if not claimed by the resident, relatives, or heirs or personal or legal representative.

(15) When personal effects or monies of residents become unclaimed and have been held for 2 years, the property or money shall be disposed of pursuant to section 201 of Act No. 63 of the Public Acts of 1949. Delivery of property and report to the state board of escheats shall be on or before the thirtieth day of June each year. The report shall list the property in possession as of the last preceding first day of June. Appropriate property may be disposed of prior to the end of the 2-year period pursuant to Act No. 238 of the Public Acts of 1957, being §434.151 et seq. of the Michgan Compiled Laws.

R 330.7229 Resident labor.

Rule 7229. (1) A facility providing work and work training for residents or utilizing a resident's labor shall adopt procedures which complement both the therapeutic needs of residents and the basic human dignity to which a resident is entitled and is consistent with regulations and policies of the United States department of labor, other federal departments, and rules of the department.

(2) The labor of a resident, whether deemed therapeutic or not inconsistent with the resident's plan of service, shall require approval by the person in charge of the plan of service. Approval shall not be withheld unless reasons explaining how the labor is inconsistent with the plan of service are stated in the case record. Disapproval of labor by the person in charge of the plan may be reversed by the director of the facility. In approving labor, the person in charge of the plan may set limits. Resident labor shall not consume more than 6 hours of a resident's day, unless approved by the director of the facility. Labor shall not interfere with other ongoing treatment or habilitation programs suitable for the resident.

(3) A resident's right to compensation shall be protected by the facility when performing labor which results in an economic benefit to another person or agency other than the facility.

(4) Labor by a resident of a personal housekeeping nature or as a condition of residence in a small group living arrangement shall be in accordance with standards of the department.

R 330.7231 Freedom of movement.

Rule 7231. (1) A facility's governing body shall insure that freedom of movement of residents shall not be restricted more than is necessary.

(2) A resident shall have a right to the least restrictive conditions necessary to achieve the purposes of treatment and habilitation with due safeguards for safety of persons and property. To this end, a facility shall make every attempt to provide maximum freedom within the facility grounds, outside the facility grounds, and to move residents from:

(a) More to less structured living.

(b) Larger to smaller facilities.

(c) Larger to smaller units.

(d) Segregation from the community to integrated community living.

(3) A facility shall insure that residents are not transferred to settings which increase restraints on personal liberty unless the resident has committed or is expected to commit an act or acts which, if committed by a person criminally responsible for his conduct, would constitute homicide or felonious assault or is so dangerous a mentally disabled or retarded person that his presence in a facility is dangerous to the safety of other residents, employees, the community, or himself. Procedures for this determination shall be consistent with the applicable statutes, rules, policies, and procedures relating to transfers and appeals of transfer or shall provide substantially similar procedures which permit a resident to challenge such a move.

(4) A resident shall have the privilege of access to grounds, buildings, and areas within the facility suitable for and designated for recreational, vocational activities and for normal social interaction, when the access does not impair the effective functioning of the facility or unless access is restricted on the basis of objective criteria, such as age, sex, physical illness, or maintenance of security of the area of potential access. Policies and procedures may require a short period of minimal or no privileges after initial admission.

(5) Rights of access shall be restricted only by an individualized written plan of service and an established set of disciplinary procedures which provide for a rational and fair determination that a right of access shall be curtailed.

(6) A resident shall be given the right to appeal restrictions on access which are substantial in scope or duration and the restrictions shall be reviewed with the plan of service. Policies and procedures shall specify the scope and duration of restrictions which entitle a resident to an appeal. A restriction includes a refusal to grant a resident's request for a transfer to a setting on the same facility or other facility which provides greater access.

(7) A facility shall provide for a rational and fair manner in which a resident may request leaves and appeal denial of requests.

(8) Whenever there is a justified movement of a resident to a more restrictive setting, a justified denial of access, or an authorized security precaution, an assessment shall be made of whether it results in a substantial limitation on a resident's treatment or habilitation opportunities. The facility director shall take all feasible and prudent steps to minimize limitations on treatment or habilitation.

(9) A governing body shall establish the maximum duration of a movement to a more restrictive setting, denial of access or a security precaution which limits treatment, or habilitation. A more restrictive setting, denial of access, or security precaution may be continued beyond the maximum period only with the approval of the director of the facility and with restoration of treatment or habilitation opportunities and a redetermination on new evidence.

(10) An assessment that a more restrictive setting, denial of access, or a security precaution substantially restricts treatment or habilitation shall be reported to:

(a) The person who executed an application for formal voluntary, temporary, or administrative admission.

(b) The court receiving a report of an evaluation of a person acquitted of a criminal charge by reason of insanity if the more restrictive setting, denial of access, or security precaution was required during the period of evaluation and is considered likely to be necessary if treatment, hospitalization, or admission is ordered.

(c) The probate court at the time of a petition for 90-day or continuing hospitalization, as part of a periodic review report or at the time of an initial petition for hospitalization or admission filed by a facility.

(d) The following courts, if at the time of a petition, report, or hearing, the more restrictive setting, denial of access, or security precautions have been in effect within the 30 days prior to the petition, report, or hearing and is considered likely to be continued or resumed in the near future:

(i) A criminal court which has ordered commitment for treatment to render a defendant competent to stand trial at the time of a report by the medical supervisor of treatment, if the department or an agency or employee of the department is the medical supervisor of treatment.

(ii) A probate court which has ordered the transfer of a prisoner at the time of a 6-month review requested by a prisoner.

(iii) A probate court hearing an objection to a formal voluntary or administrative admission or an appeal of a return from authorized leave.

(11) A provider of services to residents admitted by order of a criminal court or as a prisoner transfer may provide for a short period of minimal or no access after initial admission for treatment or for examination or evaluation, but thereafter restrictions beyond those for all residents shall be applied to these residents only after a determination, on an individual basis, that a security precaution is appropriate to the condition and circumstances of the resident.

(12) A provider of services to residents admitted by order of a criminal court or as a prisoner transfer shall identify security precautions in policies and procedures. A governing body shall establish the criteria for their use and shall provide that security precautions are measures taken beyond those authorized to be taken for all residents, and shall be arrived at and handled in the same manner or a substantially similar manner as other movements to a more restrictive setting or restrictions on access in a written plan of service.

(13) A facility director shall periodically provide the director of the department with a summary of cases where a more restrictive setting, denial of access, or a security precaution has substantially restricted treatment or habilitation opportunities. Furthermore, he should indicate the steps taken to alleviate limits on treatment or habilitation, and of cases where the facility director has approved continuation of a restriction beyond the established maximum period. A copy of the summary shall be forwarded to the office of recipient rights established to safeguard the rights guaranteed recipients of mental health services.

(14) A resident may request and have an administrative review of security precautions which are substantial in scope or duration. The governing body shall specify the scope and duration of a precaution that entitles a resident to demand a review and shall specify the manner of the review.

(15) Criteria for movement to a more restrictive setting or a denial of access, which are based on the special needs or requirements of minors, shall be officially adopted policies and procedures approved by the director of the department before minor residents can be treated differently than adult residents.

(16) A resident shall be informed of the rights of residents relating to freedom of movement and the facility's authority.

(2) When a resident is admitted to a facility, staff designated by the facility director shall explain what a privileged communication is and inform the resident of the substance of section 750(3)(b) of the act.

(3) The person informing a resident shall note the time and place of the explanation, the language, if other than English, whether the resident was given a summary of recipient rights, including a section on privileged communication, whether the resident signed to acknowledge receipt of the summary or explanation, and whether the resident appeared to understand the information, including any significant response. This information shall be placed in the record of the resident.

(4) The person in charge of implementing a resident's plan of service or another person designated by the director of the facility shall periodically assess whether a resident who failed to understand a previous explanation is presently capable of understanding or whether a resident needs to be reminded of the information. Another explanation shall be given when appropriate and shall be recorded and placed in the record of the recipient.

(5) A resident who files an objection to formal voluntary or administrative admission, petitions for discharge, or appeals a return shall be informed by appropriate staff designated by the director of the substance of section 750(3)(a) of the act. A record shall be made of the circumstances of the explanation and the resident's response.

(6) A resident admitted under an order to undergo treatment to render him competent to stand trial shall be informed, upon admission, of the substance of sections 750(3)(f) and 1028(3) of the act. A record shall be made of the circumstances of the explanation and the resident's response.

(7) An explanation given under this rule does not authorize elimination of similar explanations required by forms prescribed by the department for use in admission and discharge proceedings.

(8) The director of a department facility may elect to establish a formal structure of clinical responsibility and supervision which designates certified social workers as participants in the examination, diagnosis, or treatment of residents for a mental condition by psychiatrists or psychologists.

(e) Post visiting hours in waiting rooms, resident quarters, and guest areas.

(f) Provide adequate space for guests to visit with residents during visiting hours.

(g) Make appropriate modifications for minors attending school.

(3) Mail for a resident shall not be opened unless a resident, a legally empowered guardian, or the parent of a minor has consented that an article of mail may be opened by a designated person, or there is reasonable belief that the mail is in violation of a limitation. Outgoing mail shall not be opened or destroyed without written consent of a resident, legally empowered guardian, or the parent of a minor. Instances of opening or destruction of mail by staff shall be recorded and placed in the resident's record.

(4) Outgoing mail from residents shall go unimpeded, and distributions of mail received for a resident shall not be delayed beyond the next scheduled daily distribution time, unless an authorized limitation has been incorporated into the resident's written plan of service.

(5) A director of a facility shall approve each limitation on a resident's outgoing or incoming mail, telephone calls, or visits. Criteria for a limitation shall be as follows:

(a) For incoming mail, 1 of the following:

(i) A limitation is essential to prevent serious physical or mental harm.

(iii) There is good reason to believe that the mail contains items which are limited in the resident's written plan of service.

(iv) A limitation is essential to prevent a resident from violating a law.

(b) For outgoing mail, 1 of the following:

(iii) A limitation is essential to prevent reasonably expected future telephone harassment by a resident of an individual previously harassed and who has complained. A limitation to prevent harassment shall require a written request from the victim of the harassment and shall meet criteria in policies and procedures of the governing body, which include frequency or content of past calls which warrant the term harassment.

(d) For incoming calls, 1 of the following:

(i) A limitation is essential to prevent substantial and serious physical or mental harm.

(e) For visits to a resident, a limitation is essential to prevent substantial and serious physical or mental harm. Mental harm may include a visit that, in the opinion of clinical staff, would substantially upset the resident and interfere with ongoing treatment or habilitation. A visit may be limited or prohibited to prevent mental harm only if the person and the limitation are specifically identified in a plan of services.

A time is reasonable if a visit does not seriously tax the effective functioning of the facility. "Legal inquiry" includes any matter concerning civil, criminal, or administrative law. The written policies of facilities shall establish procedures insuring prompt access to private physicians or legal counsel.

(8) A resident shall be promptly informed of a limitation on mail, telephone calls, or visits. On request the resident shall be informed of the purpose a limitation is intended to achieve, the persons, or entities involved and additional information deemed appropriate.

(9) Limitations are subject to administrative appeal. A resident may contest the justification, extent, or duration of a limitation.

(10) Current limitations shall be reviewed in conjunction with other reviews of the content of a written plan of services.

(11) The governing body of a facility shall provide policies and procedures to implement communication rights, including the maximum duration of any restraint on mail, calls, or visits, without a new determination and approval based on new or continuing evidence, minimum hours for calls and visits, standards for determining what is substantial and serious mental and physical harm, a violation of law, harassment and a minimum limitation essential, administrative appeal procedures, and a method for allowing residents to have phone calls made for them while in seclusion or restraint.

A separate building or group of buildings used for the exchange or sale of goods or services and having a single owner and manager constitutes a separate commercial location.

(6) "Fuel burning equipment" means a device, contrivance or equipment used principally, but not exclusively, for the burning of fuel, and all appurtenances thereto including ducts, breechings, control equipment, fuel feeding equipment, ash removal equipment, combustion controls, stacks and chimneys, which equipment is used for indirect heating in which the material being heated is not contacted by and does not add substance to the products of combustion. This equipment typically includes that used for heating water to boiling; raising steam or superheating steam; heating air as in a warm air furnace; furnishing process heat that is conducted through vessel walls; and furnishing process heat indirectly through its transfer by fluids.

(2) "Manufacturing location" means a place where a person is engaged in the making of goods or wares, including the generation of electricity in the processing of material or primarily in the disposal or treatment of solid or liquid waste. For the purpose of assessing a surveillance fee it includes all such places whether publicly or privately owned and contained within 1 geographical site, except places owned and operated by the federal government or the state government. A power plant as defined in table 4 of R 336.49 constitutes a separate manufacturing location when used to supply steam or energy to more than 1 other manufacturing or commercial location. In any case, a power plant with a capacity greater than 500,000 pounds of steam per hour is considered a separate manufacturing location. For a large industrial complex or other unusual cases the commission may determine that the complex constitutes more than 1 manufacturing location, based on such factors as separate corporate operating divisions, units or sections.

(3) "Opacity" means the degree to which an emission reduces the transmission of light or obscures an observer's view.

(4) "Open burning" means a fire from which the products of combustion are emitted directly into the open air without passing through a stack or chimney.

(5) "Outer air" means air in all space outside of buildings, stacks, or exterior ducts.

History: 1954 ACS 51, p. 21, Eff. Aug. 15, 1967; 1954 ACS 77, p. 73, Eff. Dec. 1, 1973; 1954 ACS 82, p. 20, Eff. Jan. 15, 1975.

(5) "Process" or "process equipment" means any equipment, device, or contrivance for changing any materials whatever or for storage or handling of any materials, and all appurtenances thereto, including ducts, stacks, etc., the use of which may cause any discharge of an air contaminant into the outdoor atmosphere, but not including fuel-burning equipment.

(6) "Process weight" means the total weight of all materials introduced into a source operation, including solid fuels, but excluding liquids and gases used solely as fuels, and excluding air introduced for purposes of combustion.

(7) "Process weight rate" means a rate established as follows:

(a) For continuous or long-run steady-state source operations, the total process weight for the entire period of continuous operation or for a typical portion thereof, divided by the number of hours of such period or portion thereof.

(b) For cyclical or batch source operations, the total process weight for a period that covers a complete operation or an integral number of cycles, divided by the hours of actual process operation during such a period.

PART 2. AIR USE APPROVAL

R 336.21 Permits to install.

Rule 21. (1) A person shall not install, construct, reconstruct or alter any process, fuel burning or refuse burning equipment, which may be a source of an air contaminant, or control equipment pertaining thereto, before issuance of a permit by the commission. This will be known as a permit to install and will cover construction, reconstruction and alteration of equipment where that is involved. A person planning to install, construct, reconstruct, or alter any such equipment shall apply to the commission for a permit to install and provide the information required in R 336.24.

(2) In case of proposed equipment, for which a permit to install is required by subrule (1), of such magnitude that some phases of construction such as site clearing, foundations, and associated structures have to commence before issuance of the permit to install, approval of the location of the proposed equipment shall be applied for and obtained from the commission before commencement of the construction. The commission shall act on such application within a reasonable time and shall not approve the proposed location unless it is reasonably convinced that the equipment, when completed, will be in compliance with the commission's rules.

(3) An application for a permit to install may be approved subject to any condition necessary to assure compliance with these rules which shall be specified in writing.

(4) Trial operation of the equipment is permitted until the commission acts upon the permit to operate.

R 336.22 Waivers of approval.

Rule 22. If the requirement for approval prior to construction will create an undue hardship to the applicant, the applicant may request of the commission a waiver to proceed with construction. The application for a waiver shall explain the circumstances which will cause the undue hardship. The application shall be acted upon by the commission within 30 days. If a waiver is granted, the applicant shall submit pertinent plans and specifications for approval as soon as is reasonably practical. The applicant, after a waiver is granted, proceeds with the construction at his own risk. R 336.30 Suspension of applicability of these rules.

Rule 30. The commission may suspend the applicability of these rules and regulations as to specific counties, cities, or villages when it finds that compliance with the local air pollution control ordinance or regulation would effectuate substantial compliance with the provisions of these rules and regulations. The commission shall at all times maintain and make available to the public a current list of each local commission or authority with respect to which the commission has suspended the applicability of these rules and regulations and will furnish to the applicant upon request a copy of such list on the letterhead of the commission.

Notes:
[1]Fuel burning and refuse incineration limitation shall be calculated to 50% excess air.
[2]Emission limitations for specific ratings are determined by linear interpolation between the ranges shown.
[3]These emission limitations do not apply to domestic incinerators (defined as having not over 5 cubic feet of storage capacity).
[4]Afterburner or approved equivalent is mandatory.
[5]Differentiation between jobbing and production foundries.
Cupolas used in a jobbing foundry are the same as those used in a production foundry and will vary in size only according to the quantity of iron melted per hour.
However, the cupolas in a jobbing foundry will be run intermittently just long enough at 1 time to pour the molds that are ready on the foundry floor, job by job. This might be for a 2 to 4 hour period per day for any number of days per week.
Production foundry cupolas will melt continuously to pour a succession of molds that are constantly being prepared to receive this continuous flow of iron. This could become 8 hours, 16 hours, or 24 hours per day for any number of days per week.

burned results in sulfur dioxide emissions exceeding an equivalent emission rate as shown in table 4, unless the following conditions are met:

(a) The source of fuel burning is not subject to federal emission standards for new stationary sources.

(b) An installation permit, if required by part 2, was approved by the commission before August 17, 1971.

(c) The user furnishes evidence that the fuel burning does not create, or contribute to, an ambient level of sulfur dioxide in excess of the applicable ambient air quality standards. The evidence shall consist of air quality data or stack dispersion calculations, or both, satisfactory to the commission.

(d) The user is operating in compliance with a voluntary agreement, order, stipulation or variance from the commission.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subrule (1), an exception from the limitations of table 3 will not be permitted after January 1, 1980, unless specific authorization is granted by the commission.

(3) A person responsible for operation of a source which on the effective date of the 1973 amendment to this rule, or for any anticipated time in the future, is or will be using fuel with a sulfur content in excess of that allowed to be burned on July 1, 1978, as listed in table 3, or which on such effective date or any anticipated time in the future is or will be emitting sulfur dioxide in excess of the equivalent emission for that fuel as shown in table 4, shall submit to the commission a written program for compliance with this rule within 60 days after such effective date. This requirement does not apply to a source for which the commission has approved an exception to table 3 under the provisions of subrule (1).

(4) The program required by subrule (3) shall include the method by which compliance will be achieved, a complete description of new equipment to be installed or modifications to existing equipment to be made and a timetable which specifies, as a minimum, the dates by which: (a) equipment will be ordered, (b) construction or modification of equipment will begin, (c) initial startup of equipment will begin and (d) emissions will be reduced to levels shown in tables 3 and 4.

(5) The commission may allow any source which is required to submit a compliance program under subrule (3) an extension to the programmed compliance date if the following conditions are met:

(a) The source of fuel burning is not subject to federal emission standards for new stationary sources.

(b) An installation permit, if required by part 2, was approved by the commission before August 17, 1971.

(c) The user furnishes satisfactory evidence to the commission that the fuel burning does not create, or contribute to, an ambient level of sulfur dioxide in excess of the applicable ambient air quality standards.

(6) A person shall not cause or permit the burning of fuel in any fuel burning equipment that results in an average emission of sulfur dioxide for any calendar month at a rate greater than was emitted by that fuel burning equipment for the corresponding calendar month of the year 1970, unless otherwise authorized by the commission.

(7) The use of fuels having sulfur contents as set forth in this rule shall not allow degradation in the mass rate of particulate emission unless otherwise authorized by the commission. The commission may require source emission tests which may be performed by or under the supervision of the commission at the expense of the owners and may require the submission of reports to the commission both before and after changes are made in the sulfur content in fuel.

contaminants into the outdoor atmosphere in accordance with the objective of reducing levels of air contaminants below the alert level.

(2) A program required by subrule (1) shall be in writing and show the source of air contaminants, the approximate time required to effect the program, a brief description of the manner in which the reduction will be achieved during each state of an air pollution episode, and such other information as the commission shall deem pertinent.

(3) A program required by subrule (1) shall be submitted to the commission upon request. It shall be subject to review and approval by the commission after consultation with appropriate local air pollution control agencies. If, in the opinion of the commission, the program does not effectively carry out the objective as set forth in subrule (1), the commission may disapprove the program, state its reasons for disapproval, and order the preparation of an amended program within the time period specified in the order. A person aggrieved by the order requiring the preparation of an amended program is entitled to a hearing in accordance with section 13 of Act No. 348 of the Public Acts of 1965, being §336.23 of the Michigan Compiled Laws. If within the time period specified in the order, an amended program is submitted which in the opinion of the commission fails to meet the objective, the commission in its own initiative may amend the program to cause it to meet the objective. The amended program will thereafter be the episode emission abatement program which the person responsible will put into effect when so required by R 336.79.

The notice shall include the type of air contaminants being released, the approximate normal operating conditions, and the approximate time required to make complete repairs to the control device. The commission, after reviewing the information, may issue a new or an amended episode emission abatement program which shall be immediately instituted by the responsible person.

(3) When an air pollution alert, warning, or emergency has been declared in a region or portion thereof, the commission or its authorized representative shall notify the persons responsible for the sources of air contaminants who shall immediately institute episode emission abatement programs required by R 336.78.

(4) When an air pollution alert, warning, or emergency is declared for any air contaminants for which air quality standards have been adopted, the commission or its authorized representative may issue the following orders for the affected region or portion thereof:

PART 7. ANNUAL REPORTING AND SURVEILLANCE FEES

R 336.81 Annual reports.

Rule 81. The commission shall require an annual report from a commercial, industrial, or governmental source of emission of an air contaminant when, in the judgment of the commission, information on the quantity and composition of an air contaminant emitted from the source is considered by the commission as necessary for proper management of the air resource. The information shall be specified by the commission and shall be submitted on forms available from the commission. The information shall include factors deemed necessary by the commission to reasonably estimate quantities of air contaminant discharges and their significance. The report shall be submitted to the commission not later than December 15 of each year following notification by the commission that the report is required. The notification shall be in writing and be mailed to the owner or operator of the source of emission 60 days before the deadline for submitting the report.

History: 1954 ACS 77, p. 81, Eff. Dec. 1, 1973; 1954 ACS 82, p. 20, Eff. Jan. 15, 1975.

R 336.82 Annual fees.

Rule 82. (1) Except as provided in R 336.83, a person who operates an air contaminant source at a commercial or manufacturing location, which source emits 1 or more of the air contaminants listed in table 5 of R 336.83 to the outer air, shall pay to the state of Michigan an annual surveillance fee as required by section 14a of the act. The fee shall be calculated by the following formula:

Annual fee = $$25.00 + (N \bullet I_c) + (P \bullet R_r)$

N = Numerical summary of the scheduled field investigations to be made at each location during the calendar year in which the surveillance fee is assessed based on the number of sources and the difficulty and frequency of investigation of each source.

$N = \Sigma\ (n_1)\ 0.8 \bullet d_1 \bullet f_1$

n_1 = Number of sources with the difficulty of investigation equal to d_1.

d_1 = Numerical ratio of the difficulty of investigation of a specified source to the difficulty of investigation of a solid waste incinerator with capacity of 100-150 #/hr.

f_1 = Number of times per year source is scheduled for investigation.

I_c = Cost of investigation of a source of a 100-500 #/hr. solid waste incinerator.

P = Fee related to other surveillance activities. ($100.00 • W) + ($30.00 • X) + ($15.00 • Y) + ($0.10 • Z)

W = Annual emission of all pollutants in group W table 5 (tons/year).

X = Annual emission of particulate matter (tons/year).

Y = Annual emission of sulfur dioxide (tons/year).

Z = Annual emission of all pollutants in group Z table 5 (tons/year).

R_r = Correction factors to be established each year by the commission on a regional basis. There shall be a correction factor for each of the 3 surveillance fee regions as shown in figure 2. The exact value of each R will be established so that the total amount of fees assessed in the region shall not exceed the total amount of fees appropriated to state and local air pollution control agencies for conducting air pollution surveillance in that region. In no case shall the value of R exceed 2.0.

(2) The difficulty factor (d_1), the frequency of investigation factor (f_1), and the unit cost of investigation (I_c) shall be established by the commission by January 1 of each year. The d_1 and the f_1 factors may vary by county as may be established by the commission.

(3) The annual emission rates shall be calculated using information reported to the commission pursuant to R 336.81 for the previous calendar year. The calculations will be based on emission factors contained in the United States environmental protection agency office of air programs publication, compilation of air pollution emission factors (publication number AP-42, dated February 1972, which may be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, at a cost of $1.50. It is available for inspection at the Department of Natural Resources, 905 D Southland, Lansing, Michigan) unless data considered by the commission to be more reliable for the purposes of determining air contaminant emissions is available, in which case the more reliable data shall be used.

R 336.83 Annual fees; exceptions.

Rule 83. (1) A manufacturing or commercial location not scheduled for investigation by the commission or its authorized representative, where the only source of an air contaminant listed in table 5 is a solid waste disposal incinerator with a combined design capacity of not more than 100 pounds of waste per hour or a boiler fired exclusively with gas or distillate oil, or both, with a combined heat input rate of not more than 10 million BTU per hour, or both, shall not be assessed a surveillance fee. However, all incinerators or boilers shall operate in compliance with all rules of the commission.

(2) In addition to the exceptions listed in subrule (1), manufacturing and commercial locations not scheduled for investigation by the commission or its authorized representative, which annually emit less than 0.01 tons of group W pollutants, 1.0 tons of group X pollutants, 5.0 tons of group Y pollutants, and 3.0 tons of group Z pollutants, shall be exempt from the fee.

PART 14. EXTENSION OF COMPLIANCE DATE PAST JANUARY 1, 1980

R 336.141 Emission limits; extension of compliance date past January 1, 1980, generally.

Rule 141. All sources subject to R 336.49 shall be in compliance with emission limits on the dates specified in table 3 of such rule unless extensions are granted by the commission under a voluntary agreement, performance contract, or consent order extending the compliance date to January 1, 1980. This part sets forth procedures and requirements by which a person subject to the provisions of R 336.49 may make application to the commission for extensions beyond January 1, 1980. This part also provides the conditions under which the commission shall consider granting such extensions.

(2) Twenty-five copies of each application shall be submitted in writing to the commission to the attention of the executive secretary.

History: 1954 ACS 94, p. 77, Eff. Jan. 18, 1978.

R 336.143 Application; contents.

Rule 143. (1) In the application, an applicant shall describe in detail the previous action taken to meet the provisions of its current, legally enforceable agreement or order, including specifics on compliance methodology and systems considered, timing, and cost for achievement of the applicable emission standard.

(2) In the application, an applicant shall demonstrate to the satisfaction of the commission that the sulfur dioxide emissions from the facilities for which an extension of the date of compliance is requested do not result in a maximum 3-hour average ambient concentration greater than 0.50 ppm, or a maximum 24-hour, running average ambient concentration greater than 0.14 ppm, or an annual average ambient concentration greater than 0.03 ppm.

(3) In the application, an applicant shall demonstrate to the satisfaction of the commission that emissions from the facilities for which an extension of the date of compliance is requested, combined with the emissions from all other sources, shall not result in violations of the ambient air quality standards during the period for which a compliance extension is requested. The demonstration shall include projections of increases in emissions of sulfur dioxide from all sources that are likely to occur during the period of the requested compliance extension, and the impact of the increased emissions on air quality at any place in the geographic area specified by the department of natural resources. If an applicant incorporates results from air quality dispersion calculations or source models in the application, all formulas used for those calculations and all models and modeling techniques shall be acceptable to, and approved by, the commission. Sufficient information on the formulas and models used by the applicant shall be submitted as part of the application for a compliance extension. Credit claimed for stack height in a dispersion analysis or source model shall be consistent with federal guidelines, 41 F.R. p. 7450 (February 18, 1976).

(4) In the application, an applicant shall demonstrate to the satisfaction of the commission that compliance with tables 3 and 4 of R 336.49 by January 1, 1980, is impossible or unreasonable. Such demonstration shall include information on, and documentation of, the probable date compliance may be achieved if the compliance program is implemented as quickly as is feasible. The demonstration shall include, but need not be limited to, the following:

(a) The fuels required for compliance are not reasonably available, and alternative strategies, such as fuel preparation, fuel blending, coal liquefaction or gasification, or flue gas desulfurization are not reasonably available or are impractical.

(b) The cost of compliance with tables 3 and 4 by January 1, 1980, constitutes an undue hardship to the applicant or is unreasonably disproportionate to the benefits to be obtained thereby. In making this demonstration, an applicant shall submit all of the following information:

(i) The estimated costs to the applicant for compliance with tables 3 and 4.

(ii) The impact of such costs on the applicant and on others.

(iii) The benefits to be achieved or obtained by compliance with table 3.

(iv) An analysis of why the costs are unreasonably disproportionate to the benefits to the applicant, or an analysis of why the costs constitute an undue hardship to the applicant.

(c) An analysis of anticipated changes in the information submitted pursuant to subdivisions (a) and (b) during the requested extension period.

(5) An applicant shall propose reasonable interim measures to reduce sulfur dioxide emissions and shall demonstrate to the satisfaction of the commission why additional measures are not reasonable. Examples of interim measures include the use of lower sulfur fuels than formerly used and fuel preparation such as coal washing, fuel blending, and fuel substitution.

R 336.144 Denial of request for extension past January 1, 1980.

Rule 144. The commission shall deny a request for an extension beyond the January 1, 1980, date for compliance with sulfur dioxide emission standards unless reasonably convinced, based on all available information and the demonstrations and commitments of an applicant, that:

(a) An applicant has made a reasonable effort to comply with the requirements of performance contracts previously executed with the commission, or orders issued by the commission.

(b) Granting an extension shall not interfere with the attainment or maintenance of the national ambient air quality standards for any pollutant.

(c) Compliance with the emission standards is unreasonable because the fuels or technology required for compliance are not available to the applicant, or the

R 336.145 Grant of extension past January 1, 1980.

Rule 145. (1) An extension of the date for compliance with the requirements of tables 3 and 4 of R 336.49 may be granted to a person by the commission only upon entry of a legally enforceable order, approved as to form by the department of attorney general, which shall require that a person be in compliance with tables 3 and 4 on a specified date. An order granting an extension entered by the commission shall have a fixed term, not to exceed 5 years, and shall specify an allowable sulfur dioxide emission rate for the specific source for the duration of the granted extension. An extension past January 1, 1985, shall not be granted by the commission unless an alternate compliance date is established by subsequent amendment to the state implementation plan.

(2) If the commission grants an extension beyond January 1, 1980, the commission shall specify an allowable sulfur dioxide emission rate for the facility which shall be as close to the rates specified in R 336.49 as the commission deems reasonable and which, in the opinion of the commission, adequately assures attainment and maintenance of the ambient air quality standards. In making this determination, the commission may require an applicant to submit an analysis of the cost of compliance for several different sulfur dioxide emission rates and to have such cost data analyzed and verified by an independent auditor satisfactory to the commission.

(3) An applicant shall monitor emissions and ambient air quality as may be required by the commission and as specified in the extension order entered by the commission pursuant to subrule (1). Emission monitoring shall include, but not necessarily be limited to, analysis of fuel and the continuous measurement of sulfur dioxide concentrations in a stack. Ambient air quality monitoring shall include, but not necessarily be limited to, the use of continuous analyzers. The commission or its designated representative shall approve the installation, number, location, use, and maintenance of monitors required by this subrule.

(4) An applicant shall compile, analyze, and submit all data related to the monitoring of emissions and ambient air quality in a form and at a frequency as may be required by the commission. The commission or its designated representative shall have access to all monitors at any time to calibrate equipment and verify the accuracy of the measurements being made.

(5) The discharge of air contaminants caused by fuel burning by an applicant shall be through an exhaust stack or chimney which is of adequate design and construction to provide satisfactory dispersion of air contaminants and prevent plume downwash conditions.

R 336.147 Modification or revocation of order granting extension; immediate effect.

Rule 147. (1) The commission may modify or revoke its order granting an extension of the dates for compliance in tables 3 and 4 of R 336.49 if it determines that:

(a) Any of the reasons that provided a basis for granting a compliance extension no longer exists.

(b) A person granted an extension has not adequately complied with the terms, conditions, and requirements of the order issued by the commission, including, but not limited to, monitoring, reporting, and fuel specifications.

(c) The public health, safety, or welfare may be adversely affected by a further compliance extension.

(d) It is necessary in order to grant an approval to install a new air pollution source or to modify an existing air pollution source, and not exceed those levels of sulfur dioxide ambient concentrations specified in subrule (2) of R 336.143 and the federal rules relating to the prevention of significant deterioration of air quality, 40 C.F.R. 52.21.

(e) The original data submitted by the applicant on the application requesting an extension is inaccurate.

(f) There is a change in federal law or rules, or the interpretation of current federal law or rules, which prohibits or makes unlawful a granted extension.

(2) The action of the commission in modifying its order may be given immediate effect, subject to later hearing, if, in the opinion of the commission, such immediate effect is necessary to protect the public health or safety.

(b) Obtaining the prescriber's original medication order, a direct carbonized copy, or an electromechanical facsimile.

(c) Interpreting and reviewing the prescriber's medication orders and communicating this interpretation prior to the administration of the first dose. Where this would cause a medically unacceptable delay, a limited number of medications and their doses may be stocked at the patient care areas. These medications shall be made available in sealed or secured medication kits, carts, or treatment trays, which shall be provided in a manner which insures immediate availability and security. The pharmacist shall routinely inspect these medications and, after each use, verify the contents and replace medications as necessary.

(d) Monitoring medication orders to evaluate clinically significant chemical and therapeutic incompatibilities.

(e) Establishing the specifications for the procurement of all pharmaceuticals and related biologicals and chemicals approved for use in the medical institution.

(f) Periodically inspecting all areas in the medical institution where medications are stored to verify compliance with the standards for the safe use and storage of these medications.

(g) Maintaining proper security of all medications stored or kept within the medical institution.

(h) Providing educational programs for the medical institution's personnel and patients regarding medications and their safe use.

(i) Providing a method by which medications can be obtained during the absence of a pharmacist in a medical institution, where a pharmacist is not available 24 hours a day, in a manner which minimizes the potential for and the consequences of medication error. During this time a pharmacist shall be available on an on-call basis. Only a limited number of medications packaged in units of use which shall be approved and reviewed at least quarterly by an appropriate interdisciplinary practitioner committee of the medical institution shall be available, in a securely locked, substantially constructed cabinet in an area of limited access in a centralized area outside the pharmacy. Each medication shall be labeled to include the name of the medication, strength, expiration date, if dated, and lot number. A written order and a proof of removal and use document shall be obtained for each medication unit removed which shall be reviewed by the pharmacist within 48 hours. The pharmacist directing pharmaceutical services in the medical institution shall designate a practitioner permitted to remove the medication. The pharmacist shall audit the secured cabinet as often as needed to guarantee control, which shall be at least every 30 days.

(5) Upon recommendation of an interdisciplinary practitioners committee, the pharmacist directing pharmaceutical services in the medical institution shall adopt written policies and procedures to promote safe medication practices, to conduct medication utilization review, and to approve medications for the medical institution's formulary or medication list. The pharmacist shall meet with the committee at least quarterly to conduct assigned responsibilities.

(6) Every medication dispensed shall be identified with its name and strength labeled on the container in which it is dispensed or on each single-unit package. All institutional pharmacies engaged in a unit of use packaging system shall be required to place on the label of their package sufficient identification to allow such package to be readily traced. The name of the patient and any identifying number shall be labeled on the container which may be the individual patient's assigned medication drawer. The directions for use shall be on the label of the container if the directions are not communicated in another effective manner. If the medication is to be self-administered, directions for use shall be on the Rule 18. (1) Clinical thermometers shall comply in all respects with standards set forth in section 469 of Act No. 328 of the Public Acts of 1931, as amended, being §750.469 of the Michigan Compiled Laws. All materials and workmanship shall be first class in every respect.

(2) The bulbs shall be made of Corning normal, Jena 16III normal, or other approved glass that has been found equally satisfactory for thermometric purpose. The bulbs shall be approximately cylindrical. The stems shall be made of enamel-backed tubing. The tubes shall be straight, of uniform diameter, and free from defects. The mercury used shall be clean and pure, and the thermometer shall be filled in such a manner that the mercury will be free from entrapped gas.

(3) Thermometers should be aged for a period of not less than 4 months before determining the exact degree points, and should then be graduated to register temperature in conformity with the scale of the Michigan clinical standard thermometer. The graduated scale shall be of such length that no more than 10 degrees Fahrenheit shall occupy the space of 1 linear inch. The graduating should be done on a good dividing engine. The marks made in pointing shall not be such as to cause a widening of the graduation lines near the center. The width of the graduation marks shall not be more than ⅛ nor less than ⅒ of the length of a graduation interval. The marks shall be regularly spaced, of uniform width, and shall be straight and perpendicular to the axis of the stem. They shall be uniformly filled with a coloring matter which is not removable by being submersed in a 5% phenol solution for 1 hour. The graduations shall be numbered at each even degree mark, the numbers being so placed as to be upright when the thermometer is held horizontally. The numbers shall be clear and easily legible and so placed as to indicate definitely to which mark they belong.

(4) The maker's name, initials or trademark, and a serial number shall be engraved on each thermometer for purposes of identification, together with any distinctive name, number, or brand under which such instrument is advertised or sold, and no other advertisement to appear on any thermometer.

(5) The manufacturer's standards used in testing for accuracy shall be compared with the Michigan state clinical standard thermometer, and approved by the director of the board of pharmacy. The manufacturer shall also submit to the director for his approval 2 or more representative samples of each type or kind of thermometer to which he desires to affix the manufacturer's seal. These samples should comply in every particular with the specifications included in these rules. When the director approves of the samples submitted he shall assign a designating mark or number which shall thereafter be permanently engraved upon all clinical thermometers of that particular kind made by that manufacturer and shall retain 1 of the samples for future reference.

(6) Before affixing the authorized seal-mark to any thermometer, the manufacturer, either by himself or by his servants or agents, shall critically examine the same for defects of construction, such as the presence of air bubbles or moisture in the mercury or in the capillary bore, cracks in the glass, defective graduation, etc. The operation of the registering device shall also be tested to see that the index is neither too easy nor too difficult to throw back, a centrifugal machine being used for this purpose, so that the same degree of force may be applied in each instance.

(7) Thermometers which have passed these preliminary tests shall then be tested for accuracy of reading at 98 degrees Fahrenheit, 102 degrees Fahrenheit, and 106 degrees Fahrenheit (37 degrees Celsius, 39 degrees Celsius, and 41 degrees Celsius). If the instrument is found correct within plus or minus 0.2 degrees Fahrenheit (0.1 degrees Celsius) at all points tested, and shows no greater error on successive tests at these points and shows no error over 0.3 degrees Fahrenheit, (0.2 degrees Celsius) between any 2 test points, the manufacturer's seal may be affixed and the instrument may be legally sold or offered for sale in this state without further test.

(8) Each clinical thermometer sealed by the manufacturer shall be plainly engraved with the abbreviation "Mich." followed by the designating mark in plain capital letters or numbers, block style, not less than 1/16 inch in height. This marking shall invariably be preceded by the serial number hereinafter described. Every clinical thermometer sealed by the manufacturer shall bear a serial number by which such thermometer may be readily identified. This number shall be legibly engraved by the machine on the back of the thermometer near the mercury bulb, so as to prevent masking of the number when a metallic cap or holder is attached, and shall be of block type, consistent in size with that used in the seal-mark, unless some other type has been expressly approved in any particular case by the director of the board of pharmacy.

(9) Certification of thermometers. In order to be certified as correct by the director of the board of pharmacy, a clinical thermometer shall meet the requirements as given above under the headings of "General," "Material," "Graduation Marks and Numbering," and "Identification," and shall meet the requirements regarding lack of defects in construction, absence of air bubbles, tests for accuracy of grading, etc., as there given.

(10) The Michigan board of pharmacy will certify and issue a permit to manufacturers, whose thermometers are sold in this state, who comply with the law and with the rules promulgated by the above board.

(11) The Michigan board of pharmacy reserves the right to cancel any permit issued by it, in the event of a second conviction, for the sale of clinical thermometers manufactured by a person, corporation or otherwise to whom such permit has been issued.

(12) The sealing of colored-bulb thermometers by any manufacturer will not be authorized until such time as a colored glass suitable for that purpose has been perfected and approved. The use of "colored tops" is permissible.

(13) Clinical thermometers are to be furnished by the manufacturers only as called for.

(14) Basal temperature thermometers. Minimum scale range: 96 degrees Fahrenheit, to 100 degrees Fahrenheit or 35 degrees Celsius to 38 degrees Celsius.

Minimum scale length: 1¾ inches to 4 degrees Fahrenheit or 2.2 degrees Celsius.

Graduations: Short line every .1 degree Fahrenheit or Celsius and long line every ½ degree Fahrenheit or Celsius.

A departure from this rule is deemed to constitute a failure to use reasonable care and discrimination in the administration of drugs, failure to employ acceptable scientific methods in the selection of drugs or other modalities for treatment of disease, and a departure from or failure to conform to minimal standards of acceptable and prevailing medical practice.

(3) A physician shall not dispense or prescribe amphetamines without taking into account the high potential for abuse of such drugs, the possibility that such drugs may lead to severe psychic or physical dependence, the possibility that the patient will obtain the drug for a nontherapeutic use or distribution to others, and the existence of extensive abuse and an illicit market for such drugs. (e) At the time of each patient visit following the first, the progress of the patient shall be monitored which shall include weight, blood pressure, pulse, and checking of heart and lungs. The findings shall be entered in the patient's record.

(f) In no event shall the drugs be dispensed or prescribed for a patient for a continuous period longer than 90 days. The therapy shall not be resumed sooner than 90 days thereafter and shall not be resumed without again meeting the requirements set forth in this rule.

PART 5. ADVERTISING AND SALES PROMOTIONS

R 338.3261 Effect of standards.

Rule 61. Precise rules to determine that material is misleading, or that a plan of sale or development lacks adequate safeguards and assurances to prospective purchasers, cannot be made which will be applicable in all situations. Without an intent to limit its consideration or determination to the general standards set forth in these rules and without an attempt to compel any particular form or method of advertising, promotion, development or sale of subdivided lands, the standards in R 338.3262 to R 338.3270 are guides for a person preparing to file advertising material and for department personnel. These standards are not considered to be all inclusive for the department in evaluating advertising to determine whether it is false, deceptive or misleading and fails to make full and fair disclosure within the intent of the act and these rules.

History: 1954 ACS 76, p. 42, Eff. Aug. 14, 1973.

R 338.3262 General standards.

Rule 62. (1) Claims and representations contained in advertising shall be accurate and provable.

(2) Advertising shall not misrepresent facts or create misleading impressions.

(3) Advertising shall not contain a statement which, though true, implies an untruth.

(4) Advertising shall not make a derogatory or unfair reference to competitive developments, subdivisions, or properties.

(5) Advertising shall not reprint published material unless information contained in the reprint is representative, truthful, relevant, and pertinent to the property being offered.

(6) Advertising shall not contain a statement, photograph or sketch portraying the use to which land can be put unless the land can be put to such use without unreasonable cost.

(7) Advertising shall not contain an asterisk or any other reference symbol as a means of contradicting or substantially changing a previously made statement or as a means of obscuring a material fact.

(8) Advertising shall not use a name or trade style which implies that the advertiser is a nonprofit research organization or public bureau or group, when such is not true. Advertising of such an organization is prohibited when the true nature of the plan of sale or ownership is misrepresented or concealed.

(9) Maps, plats, or representations shall clearly indicate the estimated date that development will be completed. If completion dates are over a period of years, then a series of shadings, outlines or coding may be used to indicate estimated dates of completion.

(2) Advertising which refers to a property exchange privilege shall state clearly any qualification concerning the exchange privilege.

(3) Advertising shall not refer to a pre-development sale at a lower price because the land has not yet been developed unless there is a plan of development and a subdivision plat has been recorded, or reasonable assurance is available that the plan will be completed.

(4) Advertising shall not indicate a discount on property that appears to effect a price reduction from the advertised price. A discount may be given for quantity purchases, cash, larger payments or for any reasonable basis. The purpose of this standard is to eliminate the use of fictitious pricing and illusory discounts.

(5) Advertising shall not contain false statements concerning future price increases by the subdivider.

(a) The fee title holder is not bound by part 6.

(b) The plat or plan of the subdivision by which lots, tracts or parcels are offered for sale has not been duly recorded in the plat records of the county where the lands are located if required by law and the streets, roads, alleys, easements, parks and other public areas shown thereon have not been dedicated to the appropriate private or public authority. Sales maps which are not so recorded may be used if they are not designed to deceive or would not tend to deceive prospective purchasers, state in conspicuous print that they are maps only and not plats, and include additional disclaimers in conspicuous print to prevent misleading purchasers.

(b) The developer allows a mortgage, lien or encumbrance to be placed and remain on the subdivision, or a part thereof, other than specific lots upon which improvements are constructed, and other than those in existence at the time of registration of the subdivision, without notifying the department and furnishing adequate safeguards reasonably assuring each purchaser that upon payment of the purchase price provided in the sales agreement, title to the property will be delivered with all promised improvements as contracted. The safeguards shall be subject to review and approval by the department at its discretion.

(c) The owner transfers, assigns, sells, pledges, or gives as collateral security, sales contracts on a subdivision without notice and submission to the department of evidence of adequate safeguards to reasonably assure that each contract purchaser, upon payment of the purchase price provided in the sales agreement, will receive the title to the lands as promised and improvements, if any. R 338.4365 Preparation of dental hygienists and registered dental assistants to perform expanded functions as authorized by the dentistry act and these rules; educational program guidelines; teaching guidelines.

Rule 365. (1) The criteria and guidelines adopted in R 338.4360 are supplemented by the provisions of this rule which relate to the preparation of licensed dental hygienists and registered dental assistants (hereinafter referred to as dental auxiliaries) to perform expanded functions under the supervision of a dentist. The rule is concerned with expanded and other functions approved by the board, and is based on the philosophy that the quality of dental care shall be maintained no matter who delivers the care and that formal education is necessary to teach certain expanded procedures.

(2) Seven aspects of program planning for teaching expanded duties are identified as follows:

(a) Performance goals: Performance goals stated for each expanded function. The goals are general statements of the terminal behavior expected of an auxiliary upon completing a given segment, or course, of instruction in performing the expanded function. Specific objectives to be attained by a student should be developed for each segment, or course, of instruction in a given course. These objectives should be used as criteria for measuring and evaluating the auxiliary's competence in performing the function, determining course content, and selecting instruction methods.

(b) Prerequisite education: The prerequisite education for admission to expanded function programs is a high school diploma or its equivalent.

(c) Content and instruction: The content and instruction which should be provided in courses to teach specific functions are stated in general terms. It is expected that individuals responsible for planning and providing instruction in expanded functions shall identify knowledge of dental sciences relevant to performing the function with competence, and that only pertinent content shall be included in instruction. The plan of instruction, teaching method, and time allotment should be determined on the basis of the essential skill identified and the existing knowledge and skills of the auxiliaries who will be learning the function. The student shall be trained to meet the minimum requirements for state certification.

(d) Faculty: Faculty qualifications are designed in general terms for structured educational programs. The importance of faculty cannot be overemphasized, as the quality of instruction in expanded functions and the ultimate performance of the auxiliary are directly related to the background and ability of the faculty. Input of dentists, consultants, and individuals with experience in course planning and teaching is considered essential to the development of quality education programs. A licensed dentist shall provide direct supervision whenever clinical procedures on patients are being performed. Certified personnel may be employed to teach in the expanded function programs.

(e) Facilities: The type of facility for instruction in each group of functions is defined in general terms for structured educational programs. The availability of clinical facilities for demonstration and practice within a school is considered essential for instruction in intra-oral procedures. The number of operatories available for individual scheduled clinical experience which permits 4-handed dentistry shall dictate enrollment in the course of instruction. It is expected that the capacity of the facility and enrollment shall allow opportunity for each student to gain acceptable proficiency in performing the specific skills. Equipment, supplies, and reference materials needed to provide quality instruction in both didactic and clinical learning activities should be available. When indicated, audiovisual aids should be available to support comprehensive and effective instruction.

(f) Evaluation: Criteria for measuring and evaluating performance of each function are defined in general terms of structured educational programs. Definitive criteria for measuring levels of competence should be developed for each component of a given skill or procedure. The auxiliary should not be measured against the performance of other students. Measurement should reflect the relative difficulty of various components of a procedure to assure that the auxiliary is able to perform difficult skills. Performance should be measured against a pre-established competency level. Whenever possible, nationally standardized tests should be used to provide maximum reliability and validity, and as a mechanism for recognizing qualifications of auxiliaries who move from one state to another.

(3) The following guidelines shall be utilized in either continuing education or accredited dental auxiliary programs assuming the specified resources are available. All educational programs may not have the resources required for teaching all expanded functions. The availability of various resources should be a determining factor as to whether instruction in performing the particular function shall be provided. Time required to train in expanded functions will vary with the background of the auxiliaries and the specific skill or skills being taught. It is recommended that the instructional program in expanded functions be individualized and that the end performance satisfies the quality criteria established.

(a) Education in expanded functions should include minimal didactic background for the student to perform adequately in laboratory and clinical situations. Instructional aids such as audiovisual tapes, slides, typodonts, and manikins should be available for student use. Laboratory experience with models or manikins should be provided to assure basic proficiency prior to clinical experience with patients. Each student shall have clinical experience in performing each function and clinical practice shall be continued until acceptable proficiency is developed.

(b) Background information directly related to performing the function, as well as technical competence, should be measured in relation to the specific criteria developed from the performance goal. Assessment of knowledge should be objective rather than subjective.

(4) The following are guidelines for the teaching of a number of duties, many of which have in the past been taught by the dentist in his office to his employee or employees. However, the commission on dental education believes these should be a part of dental auxiliary and dental hygiene programs that elect to teach expanded duties.

(a) Exposing radiographs: Instruction in exposing and processing radiographs is, and should continue to be, an integral part of: traditional dental assisting and dental hygiene curriculums. Because of the potential x-radiation hazard to the patient and operator it is expected that auxiliaries shall have adequate instruction before making radiographic exposures.

(i) Prerequisite education: In the commission's opinion, auxiliaries who do not have formal education do not need prerequisite education to enroll in a structured continuing education course in radiographic techniques. Information related to performance of the procedures should be included in the course.

(ii) Instruction: Instruction should include classroom and clinical experiences with faculty instruction and supervision. Each student should have the opportunity to make radiographs to the extent necessary to develop acceptable proficiency. Laboratory experience with models or manikins should be provided prior to clinical experiences to assure that students have basic proficiency before making patient surveys. Instructional aids, such as slides and models, should be available for use in classroom instruction and demonstration.

(iii) Faculty: Individuals who provide instruction should have background in, and current knowledge of, oral radiology and radiographic techniques, and recognized teaching skill. Individuals who provide technique instruction should have recognized competence in performing oral radiographic techniques and practical experience.

(iv) Facilities: A clinical radiography facility is considered essential for demonstration and practical experience. Enrollment in the course should be determined by the number of x-ray units available for individual scheduled practical experience. It is expected that the design and construction of the facilities will provide maximum protection from x-radiation.

(v) Evaluation: Knowledge of principles of radiographic techniques and x-radiation hygiene, as well as technique performance, should be measured to assure that students can apply principles of x-radiation hygiene and consistently make radiographic surveys which can be used effectively.

(vi) Performance goals: The auxiliary should be able to make radiographic surveys that can be used effectively without exceeding a safe number of re-exposures, applying accepted principles of x-radiation hygiene. Clinical experience should include surveys of patients with permanent dentition, mixed dentition, primary dentition, and of edentulous patients.

(vii) Content: Instruction should include:

(E) Principles of selecting film, determining exposures, and operating equipment.

(F) Identification and correction of technique errors.

(G) Laboratory and clinical practice in making radiographic surveys and applying principles of x-radiation hygiene.

(2) A person desiring to take the examination for certificate of examination shall apply on a form provided by the board. Applications for examination and reexamination shall be received by the board not less than 60 days prior to the scheduled examination and shall be accompanied by the appropriate fee.

(3) The board may require applicants to provide photographs, birth certificates, marriage certificates, fingerprints, certified transcripts, and other relevant data.

(4) The board shall receive, not less than 30 days prior to the scheduled examination, official transcripts showing completion of minimum academic requirements, or a statement from a proper college official stating that prior to the scheduled examination the candidate will complete the academic requirements needed for examination. Candidates must provide appropriate transcripts in order to receive examination grades. Failure to file appropriate transcripts with the board within 90 days subsequent to the scheduled examination shall result in cancellation of grades and forfeiture of fee.

(5) If an applicant is not a resident of Michigan at the time the original application form is filed, the application form shall be accompanied by proof of a permanent place of business or regular employment within this state. Qualifying residency includes legal residence or the maintenance of a place of domicile within this state.

(7) Each applicant shall be either accepted or rejected by the board not less than 15 calendar days prior to commencement of the scheduled examination, with notification mailed to each applicant on that date. Notice of time, date, and place of examination shall be given to each accepted applicant.

(15) Each candidate shall be notified of his numerical grades within 90 days after completion of the examination, in writing only, to the address on the examination identification card, unless the board has been notified of a change of address.

(16) Once a candidate achieves conditioned status, the candidate shall be eligible to sit for as many examinations as allowed under these rules, even though residency may change.

(17) The board may permit an approved candidate to sit for the examination under the supervision of another state board of accountancy, provided the candidate complies with all rules of this board.

(18) The board may use the advisory grading services of the American institute of certified public accountants, as monitored by the national association of state boards of accountancy.

(19) If a candidate fails to write examinations for a period of 6 successive examinations, the original application shall be deemed null and void and the candidate shall apply as a new applicant and shall meet the current education requirements.

The board of education of a school district claiming the existence of an emergency shall request, in writing, state board of education approval to provide student instruction for less than the prescribed number of hours for a particular school year. In its application the school district shall demonstrate a need for a schedule of student instruction of less than the prescribed number of hours for elementary or secondary pupils, or both, and shall include a comprehensive statement as to the prevailing conditions requiring the reduced time schedule, the proposed schedule to be followed, the period during such school year in which the reduced schedule shall be in effect, and the program to be undertaken by the district to alleviate the emergency. Rule 1. (1) A student must be enrolled in a high school, except as provided in subrule (4), not later than Monday of the fourth week of the semester in which he competes.

(2) Members of senior high schools who are housed or enrolled in buildings other than the senior high school may be eligible for membership on senior high school athletic teams provided the local board of education has formally approved the arrangement and that notification of such action has been made to the state director of athletics.

(3) Senior high schools are not permitted to use junior high school students, except that senior high schools in classes B, C, D, and E may draw on the ninth grade of junior high schools for athletes when the junior high school is in the same building or in an adjacent building on the same campus. This also may be done by class B, C, D, or E high schools in case there is but 1 senior high school and 1 junior high school in the same city school system regardless of their locations. If the local administration of a class B, C, D, or E high school system includes the ninth grade of a junior high school with the senior high school for athletic purposes, no ninth graders may compete as members of junior high school interscholastic athletic teams (for 1 exception, see rules of eligibility for junior high school students, R 340.92(2)). In such cases the entire ninth grade enrollment must be included with the high school enrollment for classification purposes.

(4) High schools having a total enrollment of less than 75 in grades 9 to 12, inclusive, may use in baseball only, students from the eighth grade of that school.

(By authority conferred on the state board of education by section 270a of Act No. 269 of the Public Acts of 1955, as added, being §340.270a of the Michigan Compiled Laws)

R 340.1101 Definitions.

Rule 1. As used in these rules:

(a) "Personality tests" means instruments designed primarily to assess behavior characteristics of individuals other than the characteristics of aptitude, interest, achievement or intelligence. Such instruments are developed in accordance with some theory of personality and may be categorized as being "projective" or "nonprojective."

(b) "Projective personality tests" means instruments based on the assumption that the responses to unstructured material provide for helpful inferences about personality and behavior. Examples of such unstructured stimuli may include pictures, inkblots, incomplete sentences, and similar materials.

(c) "Nonprojective personality tests" means instruments based on the assumption that responses to written questions provide helpful inferences about personality and behavior. Although such tests are commonly referred to as personality scales, personality inventories, tests of social adjustment or personality check lists, the purpose, design and contents of the tests, as heretofore indicated, are the determinants in identifying these from among such tests as interest, achievement, mental capacity or intelligence tests which are not within the provisions of section 270a of Act No. 269 of the Public Acts of 1955, as added by Act No. 305 of the Public Acts of 1967, being §340.270a of the Michigan Compiled Laws.

(d) "School project or part of a school program" means any activity under the sponsorship, supervision, or authorization of the school district, or intermediate school district, even though the pupils may attend a nonpublic school primarily or a public school on a part-time basis only. School districts offering personality tests may offer such tests to other nonpublic school pupils.

(e) "Circumstances of test administration" means those situations which must exist as a condition leading to a decision that a test or a battery of tests should be administered to any pupil covered by subdivision (d).

(f) "Administrator of a test" means the individual who presents the test material and supervises the responses to it.

Such circumstances shall be limited to situations where (a) pupil behavior indicates the need for more information which might lead to an adjustment in his school environment or his educational planning; (b) data from the responses could contribute to self-exploration on the part of the pupil as a part of his educational and vocational planning and decision making; or (c) approved research programs, designed in accordance with commonly accepted patterns, necessitate the use of such tests, either on a group or individual basis. The policy governing decisions to administer personality tests of any kind or type, as a part of a school project or program, shall be determined by the local district board of education in consultation with the local district superintendent and other qualified personnel as described in R 340.1105.

(2) Personality tests may be administered as a part of a school project or program only after due notice in writing is given to the parent or guardian that such tests are being contemplated for the pupil. No tests shall be given to any child whose parent or guardian objects to the test in writing within 10 days after written notice is mailed to the parent.
